Domestic Violence and child abuse are currently extremely high on the national agenda. The Premier and her Team face their first test with the issues concerning the Member for Cook revealed this week. The allegations and written admissions/confessions reported are most disturbing and have rightly been sent to the police for investigation. This and any subsequent proceedings will take many months. In the meantime, the Government to maintain faith with the people cannot rely on this member's support on any issues of governance. The Premier promised open and accountable leadership and must now keep that promise. Any decision on which she relies on the support of this member will be tainted as will be the government. However difficult the decision, to maintain the integrity of her fledgling government, the Premier must at least stand this member down pending the outcome of the investigation. We understand that the presumption of innocence must be respected. However from what has been reported if accurate, there are already admissions from the member concerned of serious misconduct. This will be an early test of strength and leadership for Premier Palaszczuk.

Dear Anastacia
I'm from Victoria, cheered your victory at the last election, loved your appointment of more women than men to your cabinet, and now applaud your decision to get rid of Billy on account of his deception by omission. You have set a great principled example to the blokey-dominated governments who will defend at all costs to retain their jobs and political power.
You rock.

Dear Premiere Palaszczuk,

Although you don't know me from a bar of soap, as a Labor supporter i wish to convey my concern re the Cook/Billy Gordon debacle which unfolds even as i write.

I know nothing of Mr. Gordon, other than what i have read today.
The only way you could avoid a hung parliament... or worse... as far as i can see, is for Mr. Gordon to quickly declare himself as an Independent.
If... as is most likely... a by-election is held... he can campaign from an... "I'm sorry, that's all-in-the-past-and i'm a better person now" approach, he might JUST hold enough sympathy/let's-give-him-another-go votes (and deny the Coalition enough votes)... to save Labor, assuming you preference each other of course.

I wish you and your fledgling government well... through this bizarre turn of events... and what ever emerges from it.

Yours faithfully,

Dear Anastacia

Firstly I would like to congratulate you on your statesman approach in your response to the situation with candidate Billy Gordon which I heard on the radio today.

As all government employees are currently required to have a criminal check prior to employment, I wondered isn't it possible that this could and should be extended to all candidates nominating for pre-selection for parliament?

If this pre employment check were to be enacted- then it would prevent such situations from occurring.

Kind regards

Dear Premier Palaszczuk,
I want to applaud your decision to expel Billy Gordon from the ALP. While I cannot see it making any great practical difference to his family - and that is a key point, they are still his family to whom he has responsibilities - your decision will, I think, give them some semblance of justice being served. Justice seldom seems fair to those who most deserve it in these situations but while this looks like one small victory I don't want you to think you have made a difference to Godon's family alone.

I cannot say how pleased I was to see you make this tough decision knowing that you were putting your new govt at risk to do so. I hope this speaks as well of your character as I hope.

I am a happily married school teacher at . I put my father and his similar deadbeat tendencies behind me a long time ago but it never takes much to bring it back to the surface for me. In this case however I feel as though I (and mum) got something I never got at the time Justice.

Thanks,

For goodness sake show some compassion. This country needs it. What example do you follow by simply sacking him? Is there no forgiveness in our Parliament? I hope so and I hope he receives support rather than admonishment.

I am also really impressed with your 'easy touch' approach to the premiership since you got in; You seem like you want to be competent administrators rather than lurching to the left (or right). Congratulations on your principled stance regarding the Member for Cook.

Your decision to expel Mr Gordon from the ALP, despite the significant risk to your government's viability and longevity, should be recognised by most Queenslanders - regardless of political allegiance - as both intelligent and honourable.

Your swift and decisive action sets a high level of expectation for all state parliamentarians, regardless of perceived background and party.

It also indicates your unequivocal 'talk the talk - walk the walk' commitment to promoting the rejection of domestic and family violence embodied in the Not Now, Not Ever report.

I suspect that an increasingly engaged and perceptive electorate will register your integrity positively, and act accordingly at the ballot box.

Good morning Premier.
I send you this note as a party with great interest in the Liberals remaining in opposition.
It's my opinion that your only option is to immediately sack Gordon and order a by-election if you wish to maintain your credibility in the face of what will be an onslaught by the scum of the Murdoch press.
I hope you can also see that this is the only feasible option in the face of these events.
I'm confident you will retain the seat, as the people will return that confidence.
All the best.

Don't be too judgmental of Billy - his criminality must be minor if it survived the election process, more in the nature of 'rights of passage' in that jurisdiction. He has been punished through the Courts and should be allowed to take his place. I believe you should support him as an independent and take him back in due course. His contrition appears genuine and should not be metamorphosed into guilt. We need more Billys, not more lawyers. This is a nuanced test for you, an opportunity.

Good Morning Premier:

I cannot begin to tell you how disappointed I am that the member who was sacked for non-disclosure of an offence against his wife/partner, was not fully vetted before he even got close to State Parliament!
I joined the Labor Party prior to the recent elections so that I could do what I could to help Labor get into Government - I sign whatever Labor petition comes into my email box to help ensure that the Labor Party stays ahead of the game and the opposition! What a waste of my time and money and effort when I discover that new incoming members are not fully police checked before being accepted into State Parliament! I worked in the Casino industry most of my life at Management level and believe me, every single person involved in the gaming side of the industry in this country is checked out almost from the day they are born - every address they've lived at is checked and even the most minor offence (usually marijuana) is enough to ensure a Casino Gaming License is not given! My family and friends were all checked out every time I applied for a new State Gaming License - and quite rightly so! Yet the people who govern us in this State, are clearly not give even a perfunctory police check!! Unbelievable! I only hope that you hold onto Government now that this dereliction of someone's duty has been uncovered! Whoever that person is who should check thoroughly every person who wants to join our State Parliament for the Labor Party, unfortunately, should be sacked! Having said all that, I am sooo pleased that Labor did win the recent election .

Subject: Member for Cook

Dear Premier,

If the member for Cook votes in Parliament you must refuse his vote if you have any credibility or stand down one of your members. I'm embarrassed to be a Queenslander tonight.
